

Cirque Inextremiste

Extrêmes

Totally, fundamentally, irreversibly cracked, nuts, crazy, are all the three Circus Inextremiste protagonists ... Have we already seen, under the feet of acrobats, suchlopsided mess of boards and bottles of gas? They could simply have the basic instruments of traditional circus. But no, the world of theirs is always in danger of collapse, constantly subject to precarious laws. Because, on these boards that run on these gas cylinders that pitch and roll, all three perch at the cost of rolling high seas. May one fail and everyone is falling. There you can see a parable about solidarity. Or a performance during which you hold your breath so that nothing disturbs this precarious balance. Or both...

Jacky Vilacèque

Bim Bam Boom are in equilibrium. Bim falls. Who is left? Answer: No one! If Bim falls, all fall.